

Call for Dietitian to join BSPGHAN Nutrition Working Group

A vacancy has become available for a Dietitian to join the BSPGHAN Nutrition Working Group. This is a multi-professional working group drawn from BSPGHAN members and Associate Members, Neonatology and Paediatric Surgery that promotes research, education and good standards of practice in the field of clinical nutrition. The post-holder should be an Associate member of BSPGHAN and have a good knowledge of the nutritional management of infants and children which should include experience in parenteral nutrition and Intestinal Failure. The 3 year post is shared with a 2nd dietitian member to ensure representation at all 3 meetings of the Working Group throughout the year including one at the BSPGHAN Annual meeting. This is a great opportunity to contribute to the work of the Society and gain valuable experience.

Please contact Tracey Johnson tracey.johnson10@nhs.net for further information and send expressions of interest with a summary of experience outlining to the Chair of the Nutrition Working Group Jutta Koeglmeier Jutta.Koeglmeier@gosh.nhs.uk by Friday, 9th November 2018.
