23rd January 2018, Leeds
Dinner at 18:30 – Closing at 21:30

Empowering better management of Functional Gastrointestinal Disorders (FGIDs) in Infancy

You are warmly invited to attend a pre-BSPGHAN Dinner & Learn event, where leading experts in infant gastroenterology, including Dr Nikhil Thapar (Great Ormond Street Hospital and UCL Institute of Child Health) and Dr Thomas Ludwig (Nutricia Research) will present new data and discuss the latest developments in infant FGIDs. Talks will cover the discrepancy between how FGIDs in infancy are currently managed and guideline recommendations, along with new data on the cost of managing these conditions to families and the NHS, including the impact on quality of life.

This event will provide an excellent networking opportunity for experts and practitioners involved in the management of infant FGIDs.

The final line up of speakers and complete agenda will be announced shortly.
